James, Dylan and jaedyn from Year 12 are running a Young Enterprise Company called My Mental Tone which is building a website to deliver Aparima College students positive messages and mental health support. They are raising capital to kickstart their website by holding a slave auction. Some Y12 and Y13 students have volunteered to be slaves for the lunchtime of Friday 18th. You can buy your slave individually or as a small group. You could ask your slave to help you with your homework, go down the street to buy you a special treat (if you provide the $$) or play a game with you.
